

You don't need a personal trainer. You simply need Altium.

Over the years, the nutrition industry has only grown exponentially bigger thanks to new nutrition creations in new accessible forms.

At Altium, we make rigid plastic packaging solutions for consumers looking to maximize their health – including solutions designed specifically for pediatric, geriatric, bodybuilding, and many other specialty applications. Whether your product is sports and energy drinks, vitamin/antioxidant-enriched foods and beverages, protein powders, or nutrition supplements, we offer a range of dispenser-friendly and attractive options for every product.

Fit, functional and in the perfect shape.

Altium bottles are built to be strong with options that evolve with consumer demand in this highly competitive market.

Popular options include:

- Various Neck Finishes
- Color
- Labels
- Barriers
- Post-Consumer Resin
